BIG DIFFERENCE IN CAMPAIGNS

Being Made by Republicans and Democrats.

ONE DECENT, THE OTHER DIRTY

No Chance of the Baltimore Convention Being Stamped to Bryan.

THINKS CLARK SURE WINNER

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, June 8.—There is a much difference in the campaign being made by the Democratic aspirants for the Presidential nomination and that of the Republicans that it is almost a sacrifice to mention both contests in the same letter. Nearly everybody in the political world in Washington is contrasting the decency and dignity of the Democratic candidates with that of the Republicans. When any patriotic citizen sits down quietly and figures on the comparative, disgusting and sordid campaign made by the Republicans and the quiet, decent and statesmanlike attitude of such men as Champ Clark, Woodrow Wilson and Oscar Underwood, they can come to but one conclusion; that is, there is not a Democratic candidate who would not make a better President than either of the candidates on the Republican ticket. So far as the Democratic candidates are concerned, the Honorable Champ Clark is still away in the lead. He has been carrying State after State with only a brief campaign over other candidates who have been busy since last fall.

There is just now a lot of unfounded gossip about Colonel William J. Bryan getting into the fight once more at Baltimore and having his friends attempt to stampede that Convention to him. That is not going to happen. No man in this country can now take away from him the pledged delegates to Mr. Clark. It is only human nature that those delegates controlled by Mr. Bryan, because Mr. Bryan has Gov. Harmon.

It is also natural that if Mr. Underwood and his friends see that he cannot be nominated, they should ask that all his delegates be thrown to Mr. Clark. Mr. Clark and Mr. Underwood are the closest kind of friends. They understand each other thoroughly and it is to them and their work that is due the harmony and the team work of the Democrats in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Underwood knows thoroughly and well that if Mr. Clark is nominated, he will be elected President. In that case it means a Democratic House of Representatives also, and that means Underwood for Speaker of the next House. That is the biggest job in this country except the Presidency and with the kind of record Underwood would make as Speaker, he would succeed Mr. Clark as President because he is still a young man and can afford to wait a few years. Take it altogether it looks like the Honorable Champ Clark would be named on the second ballot or not later than the third as the standard-bearer of the Democratic party at Baltimore the last of this month.

Don't Forget This Event.

WHY COFFEE COSTS MORE
—COST-OF-LIVING SECRET

Within three or four years the price of coffee has doubled, along with everything else. Evidence has just come to light showing why the price of coffee has increased.

The remarkable feature of the situation is that, for once, the increase is not due to increased wages, which is the stock excuse the multi-millionaire owners of the industrial trusts hand out every time they make up their minds to increase their dividends at the expense of the consumer. Coffee has increased in price, although production has doubled, because the market supply has been artificially restricted.

In cold storage at Detroit, Mich., are 15,000 quarts of fresh berries. They are held out of the market to keep the price high. Thus capital uses refrigeration, invented to benefit man, for the purpose of exploiting and extorting man.

ONLY ONE WEEK GIVEN
—CUBAN GOVERNMENT

Washington, June 8.—The United States Government has given President Gomez of Cuba one week in which to show that he is able to put down the Negro rebellion, according to reports in official circles here to-day. The 5,000 troops ordered to be ready to go to Cuba at a moment's notice will be held ready to intervene until it is made certain as to the ability as to the Cuban Government in the situation.

"If the Cuban authorities cannot maintain law and order, and protect life and property, then we must do it for them, but there will be no intervention unless it appears conclusively that the constituted authorities cannot maintain law and order," said Representative Sulzer, chairman of the House Committee on foreign affairs, to-night.

Sulzer made the positive declaration that if the United States is compelled to intervene it will mean that the "United States will stay there."

"It is believed that President Gomez can control the situation," added Sulzer.

AMERICAN TROOPS TO PUT DOWN REBELLION

In Cuba, But Will Not Interfere
With Present Political Management.

Washington, June 8.—The general staff of the army to-day issued preparatory orders for the dispatch of a military expedition of 5,000 troops to Cuba.

The four big army transports now at Newport News were ordered to be put in commission, provisioned and supplied. Orders also were sent to the army posts from which the troops will be drawn, to have them in readiness for the movement.

The troops will be taken from Plattsburg barracks, Forts Porter, Niagara and Governor's Island, N. Y., and Forts McPherson and Oglethorpe, in Georgia.

At the War Department it was emphatically stated that if the expeditionary force did go to Cuba, it would not be with any thought of political interference in the affairs of the island government. The principal object would be to aid Cuba in restoring order.

Rebels Burn Village.

Havana, June 8.—Last night eight negroes attacked and burned a village on the Guantánamo Western railroad, eight miles from the city of Guantánamo, where a garrison of 100 American marines is stationed.

President Gomez was notified last Wednesday that the United States would intervene in a substantial military way to restore order in Cuba unless his own army made some immediate progress.

The notification was delivered in the form of a note through the United States Legation at Havana, which also notified the Cuban President of the dispatch of the Fourth division of the Atlantic fleet to Guantánamo.

The proclamation which Gomez has issued to the Cuban people calling upon them to aid in suppressing the rising is believed to be directly attributed to Secretary Knox's note.

TOBACCO CROP WILL BE A RECORD BREAKER

With fair weather prevailing and every other condition favorable, the farmers of the Green River District have been putting in many hours each day in their fields the past few weeks and indications are that this year's crops will be far above the average.

The larger tobacco growers of this section of the State have about completed planting their year's crop, and it promises to be a bumper, but the wheat crop is looking badly, owing to the heavy rains in the early spring.

CHAMP CLARK IS CERTAIN TO WIN

Friends Claim Majority In All Committees.

SENATOR STONE AS MANAGER

Of the Clark Forces, Will See That Champ Gets
a Square Deal.

PLANNING FOR THE BIG FIGHT

Washington, June 8.—Friends of Champ Clark said to-day that, even without a majority of the delegates to the Baltimore convention, the Speaker already has enough States bound to him, by the unit rule, to control all the convention committees, and consequently the nomination.

"Conceding that Clark will go to Baltimore somewhat short of a majority, his friends say he will have at least twenty-eight of the fifty-three members in each of the four big committees—Rules and Order of Business, Resolutions, Credentials and Permanent Organization.

"That Clark's fight will be well planned because certain men, who we learned that Senator William J. Stone, of Missouri, will be in charge. The veteran Congressman is one of the best politicians in the United States and, if successful with Clark at Baltimore, is to be national chairman of the forthcoming struggle. Success in November would make Stone the most powerful man in the Clark Administration and, with such a possibility before him, the Senator will miss no move in his management of the Speaker's battle at the convention.

Careful and unbiased investigation lends credibility to the contention of the Clark managers that they will control twenty-eight States, Territories and foreign possessions, and as each of these has a member of each of the committees, the Speaker's followers can bring in Clark resolutions, Clark credentials and Clark rules, and elect a Clark man for permanent chairman. In Republican phraseology, the Speaker appears already to have his big plowboy's hands on the bar of the "steam roller." With that advantage, he could fall of nomination only by one of the stratagems of politics that give the under dogs hope in Democratic conventions. But, to be the victim of such a stratagem, Stone must overlook a trick, something he has rarely done.

When Clark's probable committee control became known to-night, it was generally agreed that, even though he enters the convention without a majority, the Speaker will probably be nominated on a second ballot and Kentucky's choice thus prove the winner. If he enters with a majority, as previously explained in the dispatches, he can certainly do what he chooses with the two-thirds rule or any other obstacle. Even with committee control, unless the other candidates manage to pack the Rules Committee, the Speaker's friends will be able to provide for nomination by majority if they want to wage the bitter battle that would ensue.

SPARROW ATTACKS FAINTER
—HE FALLS FIFTY FEET

Lawrenceburg, Ind., June 8.—William Martin, a paint contractor, to-day had an experience with an English sparrow, which shows the care a mother bird bestows upon its young and the danger of interfering in the domestic affairs of the bird family.

Martin was on a scaffold, 50 feet from the pavement, painting a house, in Walnut street, and attempted to destroy the nest of a sparrow, containing four young birds, that had been built in the corner of the building, when the mother bird attacked him.

In an effort to protect the little ones, the mother bird flew at Martin, striking him on the head with great violence, and in fighting the bird off and shielding his eyes, Martin lost his balance and landed on a sidewalk, 50 feet below.

Martin turned several somersaults while falling. He sustained internal injuries and a broken right arm, but will live, physicians say.

BOLD PLAN TO MURDER G. O. P.

Is Latest Charge Made By Senator Dixon.

THE STEAM ROLLER AT WORK

Agreement Is Reached to Unseat Every Delegate
For Roosevelt.

A "ROUGH HOUSE" AT CHICAGO

Chicago, June 8.—Twenty-four delegates from Alabama and Arkansas were added to-day to the Taft column by the action of the Republican national committee deciding the contests in his favor. There remain to be heard eight more contests from Arkansas.

The test vote came on the decision in the Ninth Alabama district. The Taft delegates won, 15 to 10.

The contest in the great Chicago convention, where Senator Dixon is charged with being "rough," when he was permitted to debate a resolution to elect the power to demand a call for the election of a new party.

Some Republican delegates, however, have a different opinion. They say that the resolution is a "rough" one and that it is a "rough" one.

Senator Dixon, in the Chicago convention, issued a statement to-night, according to members of the National Committee.

"Until the roll was called in the Ninth Alabama district," says the statement, "I was not prepared to believe that a majority of the National Committee was prepared deliberately to murder the Republican party."

"The nation might as well know the truth. Three minutes before the roll was called on this contest, Senator Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, walked over to Mr. Stevenson, of Colorado, who holds the proxy of Senator Scott, of West Virginia, and said to him:

"We simply cannot afford to go on record in this case against seating the Roosevelt delegation; the case is so plain the country will not stand for it."

"Mr. Stevenson replied: 'We have to do it. Of course, there is no justification in fact, but if once we establish a precedent, we will have to yield in other cases.'"

"The theft was cold-blooded, premeditated and deliberate. With the record of the roll-call of the Ninth Alabama congressional district, I now deliberately charge that a majority of the National Committee violated their sacred trust as trustees of the Republican party, and in fear and hatred of Theodore Roosevelt, have entered into an agreement among themselves to unseat all and every Roosevelt delegate, regardless of right."

"In his bitterness at being repudiated by the Republican voters, Mr. Taft has now determined it possible to wreck the party, rather than permit it to win with Ed. Roosevelt as its candidate. But the National Committee is not the national convention, as will be seen."

HAS MADE AND IS MAKING
AN EXCELLENT GOVERNOR

No fair-minded citizen of Kentucky will question the fact that Mr. McCreary has made, and is making, an excellent Governor. He secured at the hands of the last Legislature a far more substantial fulfillment of the progressive program of his past term than has been secured by the present Legislature, in the recent fight with the Democratic party, the moral element of the State rallied behind the Governor and won for him deserved recognition of the good work he has already done. (Louisville Post.)

WILL BE "GOV. McDERMOTT"
FOR LITTLE WHILE SOON

Lieutenant Governor Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, will have his first real taste of the Governorship while Governor McCreary is attending the Democratic National Convention as a delegate-at-large from Kentucky. Governor McCreary will be out of the State for at least a week, and it will give Acting Governor McDermott a good opportunity to get somewhat familiar with the workings of the State executive office, which, it is rumored, he has an ambition to occupy for a full term of four years. Gov. McDermott is also scheduled to serve as Acting Governor during July, when Governor McCreary is contemplating a vacation in the East.

BATTLESHIP ST. LOUIS
SINKS SUBMARINE CRAFT

Cherbourg, June 8.—During the practice maneuvers of the French fleet this morning the battleship St. Louis collided with the submarine Vendémiaire.

The smaller craft immediately disappeared. It is believed to have been cut in two and to have capsized to their death the entire crew of 26 men.

The accident occurred between Audoubert Island and Cape Breton, in the Race of Alderney, where violent tidal currents prevail.

The battleship was steaming about rapidly when the submarine suddenly appeared right under the bows of the warship.

There was no time to avoid collision, and the battleship struck the bow of the submarine, which was holed and sank.

The bodies of the crew were not recovered, but the wreckage of the submarine was seen floating on the surface.

The cause of the accident is being investigated.

ROCKEFELLER'S INCOME

IS A MILLION A WEEK

Or About $2 a Second—Wonderful Strides of Millionaire Business.

(By C. H. TAYLOR.)

Washington, June 8.—Admiration of the Government by Republicans is a good thing for John D. Rockefeller. Through the collection of rebates from railroads a practice that his competitors were not allowed to indulge in, and add a tariff wall which enabled him to build up a monopoly without fear of competition from abroad, he has built up a $90,000,000 fortune. From the oil industry, and subsidiary industries which the high tariff advocates still refer to as "infants," yet in need of a protective tariff, Mr. Rockefeller derives an income of approximately $2 a second. The Rockefeller income at the present time, as near as financial experts have been able to estimate it, is $60,000,000 a year; $5,000,000 a month, $1,500,000 a week, $164,735 a day, $6,863 an hour, $114 a minute, or $1.90 a second.

A girl working in a store for $7 a week would have to labor 4,428 years to earn as much as the unequal, unfair and unjust laws of this nation permit Rockefeller to draw down every week.

William Wood, president of the Woolen Trust, testified in court not long ago that he had no idea as to the number of automobiles owned by J. P. Morgan. It was recently announced, too, that a collection worth $30,000,000, Andrew Carnegie, it is well known, has "lost all track" of his wealth.

These are the big figures of America. In order that they and the horde of lesser millionaires who enjoy their privileges under the law, may pile up such fortunes, every reader of this article must pay tribute in the form of unnecessary high prices for life's necessities.

Warning Cards.

The Kentucky law lately passed in regard to the abatement of the public drinking cup, requires that all stores, hotels, boarding houses, depots and other public places where drinking water is usually kept, shall keep a large card, with the law printed thereon, posted close by said drinking water. The Herald is prepared to furnish these cards at ten cents apiece, by mail or by hand. Better keep within the bounds of the law.

Representative Berger has announced that he will urge impeachment proceedings against the Federal Judge who deprived Leonard Olson, of Seattle, of citizenship because he was a Socialist.

WOULD IMPEACH JUDGE HANFORD

Socialist Berger Takes
First Step in Matter.

THE LOSS OF CITIZENSHIP

Of Leonard Olson Because He is Socialist Cause Of Trouble.

HOUSE ADOPTS RESOLUTION

Washington, June 8.—Representative Berger, the Socialist member from Milwaukee to-day began impeachment proceedings against Federal Judge Hanford, a Senator, who recently deprived Leonard Olson, of that city, of his citizenship because he was a Socialist.

Representative Berger introduced a resolution to impeach Judge Hanford for depriving Olson of his citizenship because he was a Socialist.

The resolution was adopted by the House by a vote of 219 to 191.

The resolution provides that Judge Hanford be impeached for depriving Olson of his citizenship because he was a Socialist.

He will open court in Tacoma next Wednesday and it is expected he will then rule upon the petition of United States District Attorney McLean for a reopening of the suit, instituted by the District Attorney's office for annulment of the citizenship papers of Leonard Olson, a suit which on May 10 was decided against Olson. On January 19, 1910, in Tacoma, Leonard Olson, aged 33 years, a Scandinavian, was granted citizenship papers.

On September 21, 1910, John Speed Smith, a naturalization examiner, filed in the United States Attorney's office in Seattle an affidavit setting forth that Olson appearing as a witness for a petitioner for naturalization in the Superior Court of Pierce county had stated in open court September 12, 1910, that he himself was not attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States; that he believed in radically changing it, and that at the time he was admitted to citizenship he was not attached to the principles of the Constitution.

The District Attorney's office therefore filed in the court of United States Judge George H. Foxworth, who has since resigned, a suit to annul Olson's citizenship papers.

Olson denied the charges against him. On examination he said he thought on present form of government ought to be abolished and an industrial democracy substituted for it. He also stated that he was a Socialist and that he was not attached to the principles of the Constitution.

Judge Hanford said in his decision that Olson had admitted he was a Socialist and that his evidence furnished in Olson's behalf, "proved that the jury, with which he is affiliated has for its main object the elimination of property rights in this country."

TO AID STRIKERS' CASE
ON RAILROADS, CIVIL

Chicago, Ill., June 8.—The referendum vote by the voters of the State of Illinois on the railroad strike, which was held on June 5, showed a majority in favor of the strike to aid the cause of the strikers on the Pullman line. Next week the conference of the national officers will decide the course of action. One union is said to favor renouncing at work, but a majority will make these very improper, it is said. July 1 is the date on which the action is expected to be taken. About 100,000 shop men are involved. The meeting of the federation of shop men's organizations of Western roads will be held in St. Louis June 20.

THE ORDINARY WOMAN OF LIFE

A Sympathetic and Human Pen Picture.

NOBLEST TYPE OF FEMININITY

Whose Worth and Achievements in Behalf Humanity Are Notable.

SHE IS ONE OF GOD'S BEST OWN

I wish that I had the distributing of some of Andrew Carnegie's medals for heroes. I would give one to just the Ordinary Woman. It is true that she never manned a lifeboat in a stormy sea or plunged into a river to save a drowning person. It is true that she never stopped a runaway horse, or dashed into a burning building, or gave any other spectacular exhibition of courage.

She has only stood at her post thirty, or forty, or fifty years, fighting sickness and poverty and loneliness and disappointment so quietly, with such a Spartan fortitude, that the world has never even noticed her achievements; and yet, in the presence of the Ordinary Woman, the battle-scarred veteran, with medals signifying valor, may well stand uncovered, for one braver than he is passing by.

There is nothing high and heroic in her appearance. She is just a commonplace woman, plainly dressed, with a third face and work-worn hands—the kind of woman that you meet a hundred times a day upon the street without ever giving her a second glance, still less saluting her as a heroine. Nevertheless, as much as the bravest soldier, she is entitled to the cross of the Legion of Honor for distinguished gallantry on the battlefield of Life.

Women know the worst of poverty. It is the wife, who has the spending of the insufficient family income, who learns all the bitter ways of scrimping and sparing and saving. The husband must present a decent appearance, for policy's sake, when he goes to business; certain things are necessities for the children; and so the heaviest of all the deprivations fall upon the woman who makes one dollar do the work of five.

This is the way of the Ordinary Woman; and what sacrifices she makes, what tastes she crucifies, what longings for pretty things and dainty things she smothered, not even her own family guess. They think it is an eccentricity that makes her choose the neck of the chicken and the hard end of the loaf and to stay at home from any little outing. Ah, if they only knew!

For each of her children she trod the Gethsemane of woman, only to go through that slavery of motherhood which the woman endures who is too poor to hire competent nurses. For years she never knew what it was to have a single night's unbroken sleep. The small hours of the morning found her walking the floor, or nursing the croup, or covering restless little sleepers or putting water to thirsty lips.

There was no rest for her day or night. There was always a child in her arms or clinging to her skirts. Oftener than not she was sick and nerve-worn and weary almost to death, but she never failed to rally to the call of "Mother!" as a good soldier always rallies to his battle-cry.

Nobody called her brave, and yet when one of the children came down with malignant diphtheria, she braved death a hundred times, in bending over the little sufferer, without one thought of danger. And when the little one was laid away under the sod, she who had loved most was the first to gather herself together and take up the burden of life for the others.

The supreme moment of the Ordinary Woman's life, however, came when she educated her children above herself and lifted them out of her sphere. She did this with deliberation. She knew that in sending her bright boy and talented girl off to college, she was opening up to them paths in which she could not follow; she knew that the time would come when they would look upon her with pitying tolerance of her!—be ashamed of her.

But she did not falter in her self-sacrifice. She worked a little harder, she denied herself a little more, to give them the advantages that she never had. In this she was only like millions of other Ordinary Women who are toiling over cooking-stoves, slaving at sewing-machines, pinching and economizing to educate and cultivate their children—digging with their own hands the chasm that will separate them almost as much as death.

Wherefore I say the Ordinary Woman is the real heroine of life.—[Elizabeth Meriwether Gilmer in Kentucky 'Standard']

MR. BRYAN'S FORECAST OF THE PRESIDENTIAL RACE

We have now approached near enough to the Republican National Convention to forecast the action of that body. Ex-President Roosevelt will, apparently, have a majority of the northern States, while President Taft seems to have a majority of the convention—including the southern delegates, who represent merely patronage and boodle. Mr. Roosevelt has been careful to arrange for contesting delegates from the South—this was the first indication of his intention to bolt. With a majority of the northern delegates he is in position to have a convention of his own in case his contesting delegates are refused admission.

The conclusion, therefore, is that Mr. Roosevelt will be the nominee of the regular convention or the nominee of a bolting convention. Get ready for his candidacy—he is quite sure to run.

Can Roosevelt be defeated? Yes, by any good progressive. A progressive will hold the Democratic vote and the Republicans who oppose a third term will do the rest. Mr. Clark and Mr. Wilson are the leading progressive candidates—either one of them can defeat Roosevelt. The country will never have a President for a third term.

[W. J. Bryan in Commoner.]

EXAGGERATED IDEAS OF THE FARMER ALL WRONG

He is a Man of Intellect and Study, Quite Up With the Times.

The farmer was once caricatured as the embodiment of ignorance and credulity. He was pictured as the prey of gold brick vendors. He was thought to be totally without savior faire in personal conduct and far behind in abreast-of-the-times information.

But the day when such an idea of the farmer had much application has gone and evidences that it is gone are to be found everywhere.

Here is a very recent one:

"Questions asked the prospective jurors thus far have disclosed the fact," says a newspaper dispatch of the trial of the packers at Chicago, "that farmers are closer readers of the newspapers than are persons who live in the city. As a result the lawyers have found that men from the rural districts, as a rule, have divided opinions on Government regulations of business and in many cases are better versed in the intent and meaning of the Sherman act than many of their city neighbors."

The old notion of a farmer was always a gross exaggeration. Now it is too far away from the truth to arouse even a smile.

The farmer knows fewer things than does the city man, but what he knows he knows thoroughly and not superficially. Superficial knowledge is characteristic of dwellers of the city, particularly of the large cities.

The newspaper is the one best means of conveying information, not only of current events, but of the course of developments, whether the developments be commercial, civic or political.

The farmer, cut off from the many distractions of city life, not only reads his newspaper, but he studies it. He thinks on his own account.

And thus his grasp of public questions equals where it does not exceed that of the average city man.

No "Dark Horse" Possible.

In a statement issued by National Manager F. T. Dubois, of Clark's headquarters, he declares that the nomination of a dark horse by the Democrats at the Baltimore convention is an impossibility. Mr. Dubois expresses the opinion that while Speaker Clark may not be nominated on the first ballot, he will eventually get the nomination.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

CAMPAIGNING IS BECOMING A BORE

One Whole Year Out of

Four is Used Up

UNDER THE PRESENT SYSTEM

By Various Candidates Presenting Their Claims To the Voters.

DEMAND FOR A NATIONAL LAW

It is already clear that the Presidential preference primary systems of the various States tend to lengthen the national campaign and at the same time stir up much bitterness among rival aspirants as well as their supporters. If we are to have a direct vote on candidates for Presidential nominations, there is all the more reason for the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution limiting the Presidency to one term of six years.

There is such a thing as too much politics. We have too much of this year. Political discussion, in anticipation of the election next November began in 1911. By the first of 1912 it was growing rapidly, and before the end of February the nation was in a turmoil.

The active campaign preceding the national conventions will have a duration of about six months. It is possible that the two parties will take to fighting right after the nominees are chosen. If so, the political battle will go on from the end of June until the first of November. It will take just about a year to choose nominees and elect a President whose term is now four years. One year of campaigning for four years of office is too much. To elect a President every six years would lessen the evil somewhat.

It will be found, too, that it is not for the good of the country to have so many different kinds of preferential primary laws. It appears from the dispatches that every State has a different law. In some States all the delegates to the national convention are to be governed by the total vote, while in others the unit is the congressional district for all except the delegates at large, who are instructed to vote in keeping with the total vote for the State. In Massachusetts the vote for Taft was greater than for Roosevelt, yet the Roosevelt candidates for delegates at large led the Taft candidates and, it appears, will vote for Roosevelt. With so many different laws, the public is confused as to the meaning of the results announced.

Then, too, the dates of preferential preference primaries range from March to June, and this prolongs the campaign, for the candidates go from one State to another to win delegates by appealing to the people directly.

As time passes more and more reasons develop for a national law on Presidential preference primaries. Various and conflicting State laws are not satisfactory. The National Committees of the leading political parties had difficulty this year in fixing a period for the election of delegates to the national conventions without conflicting with some of the State laws.

Even with a Federal Presidential preference primary law, national campaigns would be longer than formerly, though probably not as long as is the campaign this year. By holding Presidential elections every six years instead of every four, the country would be saved from a great deal of unprofitable political controversy and from much business disturbance.—[Tampa Ledger.]

SHOT WHILE PLEADING WITH GIRL TO ELOPE

Houston, Tex., June 6.—From Miss Hazel Moody's statement, it developed to-day that Lloyd Jackson, the prominent young man fatally shot by the young woman's father early yesterday, was not at the Moody home by appointment with her. Jackson asserted in his dying declaration that he was keeping a tryst to elope with and wed Miss Moody. To-day the young woman declared she and Jackson were not engaged to be married, but said he had long paid court to her and had repeatedly urged marriage. She says she could never make up her mind that she really loved him.

On the lawn of the Moody home Jackson removed his hat and shoes, climbed to a veranda and crept to a window of Miss Moody's room. Tappings on the pane attracted her attention, she says, and only quick recognition of her persistent suitor prevented her from screaming with fright. She raised the window and Jackson, just at the sill, pleading with her to elope with him. When her father appeared, first reports were that Moody shot at what he believed to be a prowler, but Miss Moody to-day declared that her father and Jackson had an altercation, the culmination of which was that Moody opened fire and the young man fell backward out of the window to the ground.

Moody's examining trial on the charge of murder will take place Monday.

MARGARET E. SANGSTER, NOTED WRITER, IS DEAD

Newark, N. J., June 7.—Margaret Elizabeth Sangster, age seventy-four, poet and author, died early to-day at her home in Maplewood, a suburb. She pursued an active literary career for more than half a century. Death was due to an attack of indigestion.

Mrs. Sangster was born in New Rochelle, N. Y. She received a private education and in 1859 married George Sangster. She was a staff contributor to leading American magazines and also did editorial work for years. She was the author of a number of books and stories, many of them devoted to children.

COST OF LIVING STILL GOING UP EVERYWHERE

Prices Higher Now Than Ever Before, Except in Time of War.

New York, June 7.—It costs more to live in this, the month of June, 1912, than ever before in the history of the United States, except perhaps during war time. Prices were high a year ago, but to-day they are on the average nearly ten per cent. higher according to trade authority quotations.

Food products are the highest on record. Meat, eggs, butter, fish, coffee, tea, sugar, salt, molasses, rice, beans and peas average twenty-two per cent. higher; wheat, corn, oats, barley, flour, etc., thirty-three per cent. higher.

Fruits are the only things good to eat that have grown cheaper during the last twelve months, but they are still higher than in 1910. Leather products cost twelve per cent. and chemicals and drugs thirteen per cent. more than a year ago. Textile goods, however, are a trifle cheaper.

The average increase in food products is nearly twenty per cent., which means that the housewife must pay $6 to fill a market basket that only cost her $5 to fill in June, 1911; in other words, $1 will only buy five-sixths as much as it did a year ago.

The biggest advances have been in meat products; beef twenty-six per cent.; hog products forty per cent., and mutton over fifty per cent. Dealers lay the increase to last year's poor hay crop and the general high cost of animal provender. Poor crops are also held responsible for denier breadstuffs.

Economists differ as to the reason for the general upward tendency of all commodities during recent years, which has been world-wide.

IS SUCH A DEAR, PEACHY FELLOW

Says Annette Kellerman of

Richard Croker,

WITH WHOM SHE MADE A HIT

Former Tammany Chief Will

Adopt Fair Swimmer As His Daughter.

IS RETICENT AS TO POLITICS

London, June 7.—Richard Croker, wants to adopt Annette Kellerman. As announced a few weeks ago, when Miss Kellerman sailed for England, Croker was on the same ship and became so interested in the fair Australian swimmer that he invited her to Glencairn, where she remained for a fortnight before the beginning of her London theatrical engagement, giving the former Tammany chieftain physical culture and swimming lessons.

Croker is now in London, ostensibly to attend the Derby, but the real reason seems to be a desire to enjoy the society of the "divine Venus." To-day Croker took Miss Kellerman in his motor to Epsom Downs for the first day's racing and introduced her as his "niece." Immediately there came a wild scramble of titled gentry to gain access to Croker's box, the rumors flying thick and fast that no niece of Croker's could possibly possess less than a million sterling.

To-night the former Tammany boss sat in a fifty-cent seat in the balcony in the Oxford Music Hall to witness Annette's diving act. The management, when it learned of Croker's presence, graciously offered him a box, but he declined, saying that from the box one lost the full view of the act, and he preferred the center of the front row of the balcony.

A year hence Croker will have another candidate at Epsom Downs carrying his colors and his gold in an effort to win the Derby, and her name is Annette Kellerman.

Annette, seen to-night in her dressing room, admitted that Mr. Croker had asked her to become his adopted daughter. She said:

"He's a dear old gentleman; such a peachy fellow, and has been most kind to me ever since we met.

"Next came a German Baron. I forget his name, but he is here purchasing horses for some crack cavalry regiment. He evidently thought I looked like ready money, for he invited me to luncheon, and several others who followed have requested dinner engagements."

The King of Glencairn, when seen after the performance, was as reticent as ever on the subject of American politics, but concerning Annette he became enthusiastic. He said:

"Whatever Miss Kellerman says goes. She may have anything I've got."

It is understood that following Miss Kellerman's aquatic engagement in the London music halls she will again visit Glencairn before returning to New York.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. BODY OF BARNUM'S FAT MAN HELD BY HIS WIDOW

Elwood, Ind., June 6.—Mrs. Fannie Morelan, widow of Barnum's fat man, who died last Sunday, refuses to let any one, except the undertaker in charge, view the corpse, and will not give any information as to when the funeral will be held. The officers of the Order of Elks, the Red Men and the Knights of Pythias, with which the dead man was affiliated in life, have called to offer condolence and give aid, but were curtly refused.

The grave in the local cemetery has been prepared since last Tuesday.

day, but the young widow steadfastly refuses to allow the body to be taken from the house.

Morelan had a fear that ghosts would steal his body, and the widow has the same fear. The dead man had always expressed a desire to have his body cremated, but the widow refuses to comply with this request.

It is probable that the county officials will be asked to remove the body by force. The grief-stricken woman had promised that the body would be surrendered for burial within five days, provided the dead husband did not advise her from the spirit world to do otherwise, but she was still holding the body to-day.

RAISE SALTED CABBAGE! —A VERY EASY MATTER

The use of salt is said to make the cabbage more crisp, of better flavor, and to keep better. After setting out the plants and when they are damp, either after a rain or when the dew is on, take a small dish of fine salt and walk among the rows, sprinkling a little pinch of salt on the center leaves of each plant; when the leaves begin to grow, repeat the salting and when the center leaves begin to form the head, apply salt again, scattering it over the leaves; after this, look them over occasionally and if you find any plants that do not head well or appear diseased, sprinkle the salt over freely; this will save all such plants. A quart of salt is sufficient for 500 plants in a season, but more can be used with safety.—[Mt. Sterling Sentinel Democrat.]

TRIED FOR A KILLING OF NINETEEN YEARS AGO

And Set Free—Conscience Hurt Him and He Finally Surrendered.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 6.—Joseph Gray was acquitted to-night in the Warren Circuit Court of the charge of killing Rose Simmons nineteen years ago. The jury was out twenty minutes. The killing occurred in August, 1893, at a barbecue at Sand Hill, this county. Simmons, with a woman relative, and Gray engaged in a quarrel. Gray was badly cut and beaten by Simmons and the woman, after which Gray shot Simmons, killing him instantly.

Gray was indicted the following September for willful murder, but his whereabouts were unknown until four months ago, when he walked into the chief of police's office in Eureka, Cal., and told the officer that he had killed a man in Warren county nineteen years ago and as his conscience was hurling him, he wanted to return and face the charge. Sheriff W. L. McNeal was notified and Deputy Sheriff T. J. Hoffman went after Gray. The case was continued at the April term and Gray was released on bond. The trial consumed nearly two days. Gray is a brother of William L. Gray, member of the Warren County Board of Education.

Came Once Too Often.

Muncie, Ind., June 5.—Charles Evans, negro, 6 feet 4 inches tall, was arrested this afternoon for the theft of eight barrels containing 1,200 bottles of Intoxicants, belonging to a company in Cincinnati, and which were stored at an ice plant in Muncie.

Evans confessed that he took a barrel at a time, loaded it in a pushcart and hauled it away. After the seventh barrel had disappeared, the loss was discovered and a watch was kept on the refrigerator plant. Evans appeared late this afternoon and had loaded the eighth barrel when placed under arrest. He appealed to the police for leniency on the ground that he belonged to three secret orders.

WHAT SHE'D DO AS PRESIDENT

Views of a Noted Woman Suffrage Leader.

SHE GIVES OUT HER PLATFORM

Declares Constitution Violated and Women Deprived of Their Rights.

PROTECTION A BOLD FALLOUT

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, as head of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, shies her hat into the ring by announcing in McCall's Magazine for July some of the things she would do if she were in the White House. As Chief Executive Dr. Shaw would unhesitatingly choose as her Cabinet officers Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, for Secretary of State; Mrs. Betty Green for Secretary of the Treasury; Andrew Carnegie for Secretary of War; Louis D. Brandeis for Attorney General; Senator Jonathan Bourne for Postmaster General; Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, of Chicago, for Secretary of the Interior; Prof. Charles Bailey, of Cornell, for Secretary of Agriculture; John Mitchell for Secretary of Commerce and Labor; Miss Jean Gordon, of New Orleans, for chairman of the Child Welfare Commission; John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for chairman of the White Slave Commission, and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley for chairman of the Pure Food Commission.

Declaring that the Federal Constitution is now being deliberately violated, and advocating as a woman the immediate reduction of the tariff, Dr. Shaw urges that "the guarantee of the Constitution to protect the States in a republican form of government presupposes that no State would have the power to disfranchise any class or sex of its citizens without due cause, or to establish as a qualification for citizenship the insuperable barrier of sex, which disqualifies one-half of its citizens from voting."

Taking up the matter of education, Dr. Shaw advocates "the appointment of a commission with power to investigate various educational systems and to collaborate from them a system of education which would develop the whole nature of the child and make it into a useful and intelligent citizen with a reasonable knowledge of the duties and obligations of citizenship. This can never be done so long as vast numbers of children are not provided with educational advantages in our great cities, because of the lack of schoolhouse facilities. It should be impossible to point to a single child in this nation denied educational advantages for the lack of a seat in a schoolhouse, or for the lack of an adequate number of teachers."

"I would urge that the present laws in regard to public health should be applied to the supervision of food and supplies in general, and to the manufacturing of garments under healthful conditions, and I would urge that there should extend to the authorities the power, when in their judgment the public health demands it, to direct the purchase and distribution of food to the public at cost, on the ground that it is better to preserve the health of the community than to restore it after hardship and famine have undermined it."

"Yet, some new legislation is necessary, and I would urge the passage of a law establishing a parcels post. This system of distribution has already been organized in other more progressive countries, and is a reasonable and cheap method of bringing various commodities, especially of a perishable nature, quickly from producer to consumer. To delay this form of legislation longer, in the face of the great need of the day, shows weakness on the part of the National Government in considering the needs of the people, and it protects the interests of great corporations which grow rich at the expense of the public."

Dr. Shaw goes on to urge that the railroads take over the work done by the express companies and says that as President of the United States she would encourage the growing sentiment that banks should regard stable farm products as adequate for loans, and thus avoid the forced sale of farm products in the face of speculators who generally borrow capital and manipulate the markets to the disadvantage of both producer and consumer.

"I would recommend that the Government, either by direct loan or by making it possible for banks to bankers to lend money for agricultural development, should encourage the producer. This is only an expansion of what the Government is doing at present. In new lands, when it develops large irrigation plants and then sells land to reimburse itself, and in the same way counties, towns and villages might borrow money and loan it to farmers for agricultural development. It is useless to cry 'Back to the Farm' unless farming is looked upon as an other important industry, and is adequately protected and aided in its development. We can readily see what it would mean to New York or any other city, if the farmer stopped shipping to it. A day would cut off its milk, five days would cut off all provisions, and a week would mean famine."

Among other planks in her platform would be, writes Dr. Shaw, Federal control of railroads, telegraphs, telephones and other public utilities, much as water power and water supplies. Then the pure food laws would come in for drastic strengthening, as well as the child labor laws, the laws of quarantine and a uniform marriage and divorce law.

Dr. Shaw takes a fling at the tariff and concludes by declaring that "the public has been too long compelled to pay for the protection of a few eternally infantile industries, while the cost of living for the poor is continually increasing. 'I would advocate the prohibition of the ownership of large tracts of uncultivated land by aliens, and I would urge the compulsory sale of such lands as are already owned by the Government at a valuation similar to that which is placed upon them for purposes of taxation by their owners, and the sale of the land by the Government at cost to homesteaders.'"

REMARKABLE RESULT OF LONG JURY SERVICE

"Could you tell us how far it is to the post-office?" we asked of the man standing on the railway platform.

"I have no idea," he replied.

"Well, in which direction is it?"

"I have not formed an opinion."

"Can we walk there or should we take a car?"

"I could not say."

"There is a post-office here, is there not?"

"I would not decide that with my present information."

"But every town has a post-office, hasn't it?"

"I have not talked with anybody on the subject."

"Is there anyone around here who can tell us?"

"I have not read any of the newspapers."

"But, man, you surely know whether or not there is a post-office?"

"I couldn't give a decisive answer to that."

"But don't you live here?"

"I have never given the matter any thought."

"Where do you live?"

"I have no mental bias in the matter."

"Great guns, man! You know you're alive, don't you?"

"I should be guided entirely by the evidence."

Here a listener plucked our sleeve, smilingly. He took us to one side and said:

"You won't get anything out of him if you quiz him all day. That's Pete Hobawot, who's been on so many jury panels it has affected him."

MORE BATTLES AND MORE VICTORIES YET AHEAD

Every good school measure on the statute books of the State has had as its originator and defender the Kentucky Educational Association. It has advocated and defended every school reform for the past thirty years. It has had much to do with the great educational awakening which has swept over the State. Notwithstanding all this it yet has a great work to do. New battles are to be fought and greater victories won. It should be the aim of every educator and every friend of education in Kentucky to make the Louisville meeting of this Association on June 25-27 a record-breaker from the standpoint of educational action, thought, and progress.

COMMISSION ON FARM FINANCE

Should Be Able to Accomplish Much.

ANOTHER VICTORY IS SCORED

For Final Benefit of Agricultural Classes Throughout the Country.

IS IMPORTANT TO FARMERS

Farmers have won the first step in another great victory! The United States Senate has passed the Groun resolution providing for a national commission on farm finance. It has gone to the House in the following form:

"Senate joint resolution No. 75, passed May 7, 1912, and sent to the House.

"To provide for the appointment of a commission to investigate the operations of co-operative land-mortgage banks and co-operative rural credit unions in other countries.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the President is hereby authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a commission of three members, not more than two of whom shall be of one political party, to investigate the operations of co-operative land-mortgage banks and of co-operative rural credit unions in other countries; compensation of the members of the commission shall be $3,000 each. Said commission is hereby authorized to employ such clerks, stenographers, and other assistants as may be necessary, which employees shall be paid such compensation as the commission may deem just and reasonable, upon a certificate to be issued by the chairman of the commission. For the purposes of its investigations the commission shall be authorized to incur, and have paid upon the certificate of its chairman, such expenses as the commission shall deem necessary. Provided, however, that the total expenses authorized or incurred for compensation, employees, and otherwise, shall not exceed the sum of $30,000. Said commission shall, not later than one year after appointment, submit a report to Congress, embodying therein recommendations as to how the systems of such land-mortgage banks and rural credit unions may best be adapted to the needs and requirements of the people of the United States, and at that date this commission shall cease to exist."

Now, let us put it through the House without further delay. Please address at once a strong letter than to try to alter or amend it House, Committee on Agriculture, Washington, D. C., urging them to report out S. J. 75, so that it can immediately pass the House in exactly the above form. This is better than to try to alter or amend it in any way. Time is short, as the commission should be appointed soon. Then it will be able to report next December. In this way, the farmers' end of the finance question will be before Congress when, early in the new year, it takes up the whole problem of money, credits and banking. This report will also be in time to guide the action of the Legislatures which will be in session in nearly all of the States next winter, so that they may enact whatever laws are necessary to promote co-operative farm finance in the different States.—[American Agriculturist.

CHURCH MUSIC AFFAIR
OF THE CONGREGATION
Music has long been notoriously a provoker of discord. Once in my newshunting days I suffered the ignominy of a "scoop" on a choir rumormongering, and thereupon formed the habit of leading an anxious ear to rumors of trouble in choir circles. The average ladder-like "Te Deum" built up for the display of the "60 pratt" vocal prowess, has always struck me as an unwholesome thing. I even believe that the horrors of highly embellished "Glorias," have done much to tighten purse-strings and deaden generous impulses. The preface behind the pulpit of a fan-gold quartet prising God on behalf of the bored sinners in the pews has always seemed to me the profanest of anomalies. Nor has long contemplation of vested choirs in Episcopal churches shaken my belief that church music should be an affair of the congregation.—[Meredith Nicholson, in the Atlantic.

LOVE LEFT WHEN WEALTH CAME INTO HOUSEHOLD
New York, June 7.—Frederick H. Crandell, who is said to have received $2,000,000 from the estate of his uncle, the late Edwin Hawley, found himself today in a suit for separation, brought by his wife, Mrs. Adelaide Crandell, charging him with abandonment, cruelty and non-support.

It was because of Crandell's infatuation for Mrs. Crandell, formerly Miss McManus, a telegraph operator in the Southern Pacific offices, where Crandell also was employed, that Mr. Hawley severed all relations with his nephew. With the railroad man's death, however, Crandell came in for a share of his fortune, Mr. Hawley having died intestate.

In her complaint Mrs. Crandell recites that much of the alleged cruelty on the part of her husband has occurred in the last few months, or after he had come into influence. They have five children.

SENATOR LORIMER WILL DO THE CAUSE MUCH GOOD
Senator Lorimer, in announcing that he would not resign, has done this country a real service, and if he clings to that intention until the question of his retention can be decided by a vote in the Senate, he will have performed a really great service.

There are sometimes over forty Senators who will vote to keep Lorimer in his tainted seat. If Lorimer had resigned, they would have escaped a record vote. Now that he has announced his intention to stick, they will be brought fairly to the scratch and forced to go squarely on record.

And after they vote for Lorimer they will be retired just as soon as the people can get at them. This will be a mighty good thing for the country—for which Mr. Lorimer is entitled to credit.

When your child has whooping cough, be careful to keep the cough loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as may be required. This remedy will also liquify the tough mucus and make it easier to expectorate. It has been used successfully in many epidemics and is safe and sure. For sale by all dealers.

Harvester Combine Must Pay.
The International Harvester Company must pay a fine of $1,500 imposed in the Grayson Circuit Court, the Court of Appeals having affirmed the verdict of the lower court brought by the Commonwealth against the Harvester Company, charging combination to restrain trade. The jury found for the Commonwealth, and this is sustained. The higher court adopts the opinion handed down in March in a similar case from Bullitt county.

There are several fellows yet to come to the bat before Teddy makes his third base.

It is now generally understood that Rooseveltism is not only a disease but an epidemic.

Those fellows who would rather be right than President, have a lot of chances these days.

And still we hear little or nothing about a Vice Presidential candidate in either of the leading parties.

"There is no occasion for boiling
if the decisions are honest," says Teddy. But there's that ominous little "if."

It is said that the oldest woman voter in California is for Taft. Can it be that he has captured the "old maid" vote?

Mr. LaFollette is still bragging that he is the only Republican candidate for the Presidency who carried his own State in the preference primaries.

President Taft has complained,
in his scrap with Teddy, that he has been "hit below the belt." Wouldn't it have been awful if he had been hit right on the belt line?

Let us hope that the recent insane political agitation with which our country has been afflicted will not project its influence into our national holiday and that we will have a sane Fourth of July.

One of the most important gatherings ever held in the State will be that of the Kentucky Educational Association to be held in Louisville, June 25, 26 and 27. No progressive teacher should fail to attend.

Senator John Sharp Williams
charges that it costs six dollars to bathe a Senator and advocates the abolishment of the Government bath houses. He very properly adds that such Governmental extravagance is inexcusable.

President Taft can hit the bull's eye once in awhile, as when in a recent speech he said: "Mr. Roosevelt likens himself to Abraham Lincoln, whom he more and more resembles less than any man in the history of this country."

In the matter of delegates to the Republican National Convention, there seems to be a difference between what was "bought and sold"
and what is called "the voice of the people." But that will probably be settled at Chicago the 18th.

It is said that speculators are offering $50 each for seats in the Republican National Convention which meets in Chicago June 18. It will no doubt be much safer in a seat off to one side, and almost any fellow's life or limb ought to be worth fifty plunks or more.

The "greatest show on earth"
will open at Chicago next Tuesday,
the 18th. As usual, the elephant will be one of the prime attractions.
From a glance at the acrobats in waiting, however, it looks now like the faithful old critter will be ridden almost to death.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth
has taken the initiative and heading a crowd of feminine followers,
it has been decided that the women must remove their hats at the Republican National Convention. It was agreed that "it is almost an impertinence and assuredly a discourtesy for women to keep on their hats." If all this is true in a political assemblage, ought not the same rule apply in the house of God during the preaching hour?

It is said that Lord Haldon, a member of the English peerage,
was recently sued by his grocers
for $20 "for goods supplied" and judgment went against him, although he affirmed he did not owe the bill. After the verdict, Lord Haldon observed in court: "I won't pay it. I am going to America next week." That sounds a whole lot like a familiar incident that occurs in a country newspaper office
once in awhile when a subscriber refuses to pay his dues ("goods supplied") and departs for another place, leaving no address. But thank goodness, there are only a few of these "English" sort of fellows.

The talk of a third man or a dark horse winning the Republican Presidential nomination is subsiding very materially. The reason is there is no able or self-respecting Republican willing to take the nomination with the conditions facing him after the campaign of vituperation between Taft and Roosevelt.

He knows he would be defeated and he is not hankering to become a vicarious sacrifice simply to pull the chestnuts of a few standpat Republicans out of the fire. So it does not make any difference to the Democrats of this country who is nominated on the Republican ticket; they will beat that candidate to a frazzle.

Once in awhile we come across a person who refuses to pay his dues
on The Herald, claiming that he never subscribed for the paper and therefore owes nothing. This type of person usually allows the subscription account to run up two or three years, before making this complaint. Of course the account is just and due, because he has received and enjoyed the paper. The Herald is never sent regularly to anybody unless it is ordered by the subscriber or a friend or relative for him. Of course we do not always remember the latter state of case at the expiration of time. We do not wish anybody to take The Herald unless they want it.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY FOR VICE PRESIDENT

New York, June 10.—William Cox Redfield, Representative in Congress from one of the Brooklyn districts, has announced himself as a candidate for the nomination for Vice President on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Redfield is a business man of large means and is an expert on the subject of the tariff. He was elected to Congress without much regard to political affiliations.

WOULD AMEND THE NEW LAW AFFECTING WOMEN

Paducah, Ky., June 8.—Merchants in Paducah will co-operate with the merchants of Louisville, Lexington and other cities in the State to secure an amendment to the new State law which prohibits employers from working women more than ten hours a day. The law is effective June 10. The merchants of several cities, including Paducah, desire Saturdays and the shopping days preceding Christmas, excluded. However, local labor leaders believe that the amendment will be met with strong opposition, as a similar law to that passed by the recent Legislature is working successfully in Illinois and other States.

United States Senator Nixon, of Nevada, died from spinal meningitis in a Washington hospital.

Will Nominate Taft.

Columbus, O., June 10.—The name of President Taft will be presented to the Chicago convention by Warren G. Harding, former Lieutenant Governor of Ohio. Mr. Harding announced to-day that he had received a letter from Mr. Taft asking him to name him at the Chicago convention. Mr. Harding announced he had accepted the commission.

COURTESY TO THE PRESS IS NEVER MISPLACED

Courtesy to the newspapers can do more good for the public welfare than one realizes. Remember, when a newspaper representative honors you by asking you for information, that you are not merely favoring him, but you are giving satisfaction to the public by giving the press reliable information. There is nothing that brightens the work of the press more than to have those on the list who can be depended on to help furnish particulars and facts for the paper in a willing, accommodating manner. It is a pleasure to think of friends who are always glad to remind you of events and other items. Give to the newspaper and it shall be given unto you, and the same measure that you give out courtesy and kindness and truthfulness to the press, the same shall be measured back to you again.—[Breckenridge News.]

WOMEN AT CONVENTION WILL TAKE BONNETS OFF

Style Leaders, Headed by Mrs.
Nicholas Longworth, Have
So Decided.

Chicago, Ill., June 8.—The feminine controversy which closed the Republican National Convention
four years ago gives indications of opening the convention this year.
Shall the women take off their hats? They shall.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth
says so. Mrs. Henry Wadsworth, daughter of the late John Hay, former Secretary of State, and wife of one of the Speakers of the New York House; Mrs. Harry New, Mrs.
Charles S. Deneen, Mrs. Wade Ellis,
Mrs. Judson Harmon, Mrs. Myron
T. Herrick and other arbiters of feminine political styles, all say so.

Mrs. Longworth, at the convention, brought the matter to an issue with all the quickness of decision which characterizes her father in settling large matters. She took her seat, looked about her casually from under a wide, flower-trimmed hat, drew herself to alertness, whipped off her long white gloves and abstracted three hat pins out of her hat. For a long while she held it in her lap, then she gave it to Nicholas to look after.

By this simple act of courtesy
Mrs. Longworth elicited an ovation which, with a little encouragement,
might have spread to something resembling the enthusiasm her father's name brought about. Although the convention had been raging for three days, not another woman had offered to remove her hat.

Chicago women who have interested themselves in the convention,
among them Mrs. Chatfield Taylor,
Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mrs. La
Verne W. Noyes and Mrs. John Borden, have all agreed that it is almost an impertinence and assuredly a discourtesy, for women to keep on their hats. With these on the affirmative side, the negative,
if there is one, doubtless will gently fade.

"Houn' Dawg" Imitator.

Slater, Mo., June 9.—J. A. Jay-cox, day yardmaster for the Chicago and Alton Railroad at Slater, has been humming the "houn'
dawg" song until men on his division have organized a movement to send him to Baltimore for the National Democratic Convention as a booster for Champ Clark. Jaycox is able to mimic well the various tones of the famous Missouri fox hunter. He performs the imitations so perfectly that the Missouri delegation has furnished his transportation and will depend upon him
to root in the language of the
"houn' dawg."

THOUSAND "HOUN' DAWGS" TO PARADE FOR CLARK

Washington, D. C., June 10.—
Champ Clark's Presidential headquarters announced last night that a campaign is on to marshal "houn'
dawgs" from every State in Baltimore. A trainer and fancier in Tulsa county, Oklahoma, is arranging for a dog parade in Baltimore
during the Democratic National Convention. He expects to have 1, 000 dogs in line. His idea is to have every State represented by a delegation of dogs.

"I want a thousand dogs in this parade," he says, "and I want every State represented. We are planning to get as many trained dogs as possible and a few that have been in service in the Yukon country."

Committee to Investigate.

A measure directing the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations to investigate the authority for American military operations in any foreign nation, except under express direction of Congress, and another to ascertain whether insurrections
in Cuba and Mexico are being fomented in this country, were introduced Saturday.

Memorial Services.

Owensboro, Ky., June 10.—The annual memorial services and decoration of the graves of the deceased brothers were held at Elmwood cemetery yesterday afternoon
by the Owensboro camp of the Woodmen of the World, and the exercise were the most largely attended ever had. The Woodmen marched to the cemetery with a brass band and the Uniform Rank leading the marching lines.

CHILDREN SOLD AS SLAVES TO THE HIGHEST BIDDERS

Geneva, Switzerland, June 8.—
Swiss and German writers are calling the attention of the public and the authorities to what is practically a slave market, where girls and boys between the ages of 11 and 15 years are "sold" in public to the highest bidders, at Friedrichshafen,

a German town, on Lake Constance.

These children, numbering 200
or more, are brought about this time of the year by their parents, who are poor and live mostly in the Austrian Tyrol and on the Swiss frontier. Swiss and German farmers examine the "goods," and choose the strongest and healthiest children to work for them throughout the summer.

The prices are arranged between the farmers and the parents, and a contract is signed. The farmer agrees to give food and lodging to the boy or girl he engages and $5
to $10 after five to six months'
work, which is for 17 to 18 hours a day. The farmer does not usually accept any responsibility concerning the moral conduct of the boy or girl who has "entered" his service, and whom he treats as a farm hand and on the same footing
as his other employees.

The following is roughly a day (Sunday included) in the life of one of these child slaves: Rise at 4 a. m., prepare coffee for the farm and milk the cows, drive the animals up the mountain slopes, return to the farm about 11 a. m. to help (if a girl) to prepare the dinner, and (if a boy) to chop wood for the winter. Dinner at 12, then odd jobs, and in Switzerland school for one hour and a half. After school the girl or boy receives a piece of bread and goes up the mountain to see that the cattle have not strayed and to look after them
until milking time, about 8 p. m., and drive them down. Toward 9 o'clock the cattle are driven in their stables for the night, and supper is served. Bedtime is rarely earlier than 10 p. m., and the child "slave"
must be up at 4 a. m. again to continue the daily routine.

Thomas L. Walker Ousted.

Lexington, Ky., June 8.—Thomas
L. Walker, a Roosevelt supporter, was deposed as Chairman of the Fayette county Republican Committee, and Thomas M. Owsley, a Taft adherent, was seated by the Seventh District Republican Committee
here to-day. But the end is not yet.

Walker, taking the ground that there was not a legal quorum present, gave notice of an appeal to the State Central Committee.

THE LOVE LETTERS FELL INTO HIS WIFE'S HANDS

Bluefield, W. Va., June 8.—Mrs.
Lizzie Diggs is dead because when she wrote letters to her affinity, Charles Tinsley, she failed to have them registered, and as a result six of them fell into the hands of Tinsley's wife, who daily visited the post-office while her husband was at work.

The shooting took place at Thomas when Mrs. Diggs met Mrs. Tinsley, who said she had received her letters and then pulling a gun fired
three shots at the woman.

Mrs. Tinsley is hiding at the home of relatives.

FARMING DELAYED IN GREEN RIVER DISTRICT

Owensboro, Ky., June 9.—Reports from every section of the Green river district are that the farmers are complaining on account of the lack of rain and that crops are suffering considerably on account of the scarcity of rain. The tobacco setting has been held back,
and the growing crops have been retarded by the want of rain, and the cool nights experienced recently have been even worse for them.
Corn is said to be suffering more than any other crop.

ARE NOT FAMILIAR WITH COMING STATE PRIMARY

Louisville, Ky., June 8.—That the workings of Kentucky's new direct primary law confuse those interested, in both Republican and Democratic politics, was disclosed
by the fact that hardly any one realized until Wednesday that properly certified petitions must be filed with the county clerk by June 24,
to secure places on the official ballot at the State primary, August 3.

Those who set to work preparing these petitions found the work far more technical than had been supposed. Under the law, it is necessary to present a petition signed by approximately 1,200 voters, and each voter must give, with his name and address, his precinct and ward, and must have been registered at that address at the last congressional election. Moreover, all voters must certify they affiliate,
and expect to affiliate, with the party of the candidate for whom they sign. All candidates who do not get their petitions in by June 24
cannot be voted for at the August primary, and if there is only one candidate, he will get the nomination and the right to the party emblem by default.

THE FIRST REAL MONEY ON PRESIDENTIAL RACE

New York, June 6.—Perhaps the first real election bet to be made on the curb was put through here when $2,000 was wagered against $2,000
that Theodore Roosevelt would not be nominated at Chicago.

The man who bet against the nomination of Roosevelt also offered to place $1,200 against $1,000
that President Taft would not be elected if nominated.

It was learned that a coterie of Wall-street bankers, in order to test the confidence of the Roosevelt boosters who were offering to bet $3,000 to $1,000 that their chief would be nominated on the first ballot at Chicago, had sent $1,000
to Chicago to be offered publicly,
but found no takers, even when offered at 2 to 1 and finally at even money.

To House of Reform.

Verna Poole, Mary Milburn and Lora Wetter, three girls about 16 years old, will be taken to the house of reform Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff J. C. Harl, accompanied by James Weatherholt. The Poole and Milburn girls will serve four years each, and the Wetter girl two years. Since the Poole girl has been placed in jail, her husband has sued her for a divorce on the grounds of immorality.—[Owensboro Inquirer.]

KENTUCKIAN ENDS LIFE AFTER GREWSOME JOKE

Winchester, Ky., June 8.—As a sequel to a grewsome joke, Charles Watterman is dead to-night and his sister, Miss Lizzie Watterman, is in a serious condition.
Just to see how his sister would take his death, Watterman, a shoemaker, telegraphed his sister late last night that he was dead. The police of Lexington searched all night for the man and only located him at 12:30 a. m. to-day when he walked into a police station and disclosed his identity.

Humiliated at his act and saying that he had "made an ass" of himself, he swallowed morphine shortly after he arrived here at noon to-day. As another phase of this fatal "joke," it was thought that the tablets he took were harmless and he was given no medical attention. He was locked up in jail for safe keeping, as he said he intended to commit suicide and died there to-night.

Mr. Martin is a genial fellow and a good business man who will no doubt fill the position very acceptably. Mr. Heavrin, who has made a most efficient and accommodating postmaster, will now give the practice of law his whole time.

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES TO TOUR EUROPE

Lexington, Ky., June 10.—Prompted by the desire to supplement their university education by travel and observation, Messrs. Jesse I. Miller, of this city, and R. W. Tinsley, of Hartford, Ky., two young collegians, who graduated with honors from the Kentucky State University in a class of ninety-seven young men and women, will leave next Wednesday for a tour of Europe, which they propose to make on bicycles, for the purpose of being better able to take in the scenery and study the manners, customs and living conditions of the people in the various countries, which they will visit.

Young Miller is the son of former Alderman J. J. Miller, now member of the Board of Public Works of this city, and has distinguished himself at the university during his senior year as an orator, winning a medal as the champion orator of the Patterson Literary Society and also being one of the winning team which defeated Transylvania in the annual intercollegiate debate.

Young Tinsley possesses pronounced literary talent, and was the editor of the idea, the weekly publication of the university, and later was elected editor-in-chief of the University Annual.

Attired in an outing flannel shirt and khaki trousers, and with their note books and a few necessities in a knapsack, they will tour England, France, Germany, Switzerland and Northern Italy, spending about four months in their peregrinations abroad. They will not take "bikes" with them, but expect to purchase these immediately upon landing in England.

Messrs. Miller and Tinsley will be the first graduates of State University to take this kind of a post graduate course in travel, and they expect the experiment to prove beneficial to them from both a health and knowledge standpoint. [Louisville Times.]

VIOLENT VOLCANOS AWAKE FROM THEIR SLUMBERS

Three Peaks in the Aleutian Range in Alaska are Spouting Flames.

Seattle, Wash., June 8.—Three slumbering volcanoes in the Aleutian range of Alaska suddenly have come to life and are throwing out great quantities of smoke and hot ashes. The awakened peaks are Lillima and Redoubt, in the Cook Inlet country, and Katmai, which overlooks Spillkot Strait.

It is likely that Ilogoslof, Shalidin and Pavloff, which are active volcanoes, and much farther west, are also spouting flames. Dispatches from the north say that the volcanoes are emitting lava and rocks, but the discharge from the Alaska craters usually is only ashes and smoke, and it is hoped there will be no loss of life. Apparently Kodiak and its neighboring islands have been covered by ashes.

Since the change of climate in Alaska, cattle, sheep and hogs have been able to feed on doors on Kodiak Island throughout the year. The volcanic ashes, if they fell on the island, 18 inches deep, as they did on the day of the steamship Dora, must have destroyed the grass, which, however, will grow again on the ashes.

Mount Lillima is more than 112,000 feet high and the red sky above its blazing crater is visible seawards for two miles distant.

The efforts of the mountains to clear the debris from their clogged craters caused convulsions, which were recorded in Washington, D. C., in Seattle and Cleveland, Ohio. After the chimneys were opened the needles in the observatories were no longer agitated. The struggle of the volcanoes to break their fetters caused reports like the firing of cannon.

Revival at Christian Church.

As had been advertised the Ray L. Brown Evangelistic Company began a series of meetings at the Christian church here Sunday morning, June 9. The house has been filled to its utmost capacity at all services held to date. Hartford is very fortunate in securing the services of Eld. Brown and his excellent company who hail from Bellefontaine, O.

Mr. D. E. Snider, who has charge of the music is certainly a master of music, and the chorus deserves much credit for assistance rendered their deserving leader.

Cornet music is furnished by R. L. Brown, Jr., who is an accomplished artist and also deserves much of the credit for the good music.

As a result of this meeting no doubt much and lasting good will be accomplished throughout the community.

The meeting continues indefinitely.

TEACHERS FROM BEST COLLEGES

Are Now Being Sent To The Philippines.

THE INCREASING INTEREST In Western Educational Matters Makes the Demand Very Great.

EAST IS CENTER OF INTEREST

Washington, June 8.—The Bureau of Insular Affairs has just completed the selection of over one hundred American teachers for service in the Philippine Islands. These young men and women come from the best universities, colleges and normal schools in almost every section of the United States, and were selected from a larger eligible list of candidates than ever before applied for positions with the Insular branch of the Government service. More than eleven years of our educational experiment there has demonstrated to those who have investigated the subject that, as a noted educator on his return from the Orient said, "the achievements of the Bureau of Education in the Philippines make as bright and inspiring a chapter of history as was ever written," and that our Insular service offers an excellent opportunity for honest, energetic and well educated young men to render a most conspicuous service for the Government and for themselves.

It is very gratifying to the officials to know that there is such an increasing interest in its Insular possessions and that it can depend upon young, clear-brained and clear-minded men of good education to enter its service and assist in the solution of some of the problems which daily confront it.

Students and travelers in the Orient in recent years have returned to the United States with the report that the East is to be the center of the greatest governmental activities of the twentieth century and our position in the Philippines has made it possible for those on the ground to get an insight into these problems and take a very active part in their solution insofar as the participation by the United States Government is concerned.

The development of the American public school system in the Philippines, modified to meet local conditions, has been a most remarkable one during the past ten years, yet the opportunity for further growth is very great. The organization is still in its primitive period, and these hundred young men who have just sailed from San Francisco to add their training and experience to the nine thousand American and Filipino teachers already on the ground and familiar with the local situation, will result in a very material advance in the performance of our obligations in the Philippines.

Near Corn Famine.
Tompkinsville, Ky., June 1.—There is almost a corn famine in Monroe county. Corn now sells for a dollar a bushel, and it is predicted that before the middle of June it will go at least to $1.25 a bushel. Most of the corn has been sold either to city dealers or to distillers within the county. There would be much suffering among livestock but for the excellent pasturage, of which there is an abundance.

KENTUCKY DEATH HOUSE CROWDED—RARE THING

Thirteen men now occupy the death house at the Eddyville penitentiary awaiting ends in the electric chair. This is said to be the largest number of men ever under sentence of death at one time in Kentucky. Those who make a study of such things say that one reason there has been more tendency of late to impose the death penalty is that the execution of the sentence takes place at Eddyville and not where the crime occurred. Death sentences in this State were rare prior to the passage of the electrocution bill and the establishment of the death chair at Eddyville. Now it is common for a jury to find a man guilty and fix his punishment at death. Several men have already been put to death in the electric chair, and now there are thirteen more to be killed by the electric current. Where the condemned man was hanged, the execution took place in the county where the crime was committed, and the local sheriff had to spring the trap. Many sheriffs objected vigorously to presiding at an execution, and used their influence to prevent the return of a death penalty, or, if the death penalty was returned, were active in trying to secure a commutation of the death sentence. (Frankfort News-Journal.)

WHY HE SAID IT.

The votes had all been cast. The second term was his. The subject of a third term was not up. Nobody was asking for a pledge; nothing was to be gained by one; it came without apparent cause or occasion. Everybody wondered why, and nobody to this day knows. But there must have been a cause. "The custom which limits a President to two terms is wise; I am entering on my second; under no circumstances will I accept a third." The words were carefully arranged and of the utmost importance. There must have been a cause.

Theodore Roosevelt had just been elected to rule this nation for a second term. He had received an endorsement that was almost without precedent; majorities of half a million here and 200,000 there; it might as well have been unanimous. It was a wonderful tribute, an unparalleled triumph. His cup was full.

He was very grateful, very happy; and the best that was in the man was on top.

He said to himself: "Theodore, I know you. You love power. There is no limit to your ambition. You have learned the game. You know how to dazzle and fascinate as well as Napoleon. You may, if you will, break all precedent and rule this nation as long as you live. That is what you would like to do—be a Napoleon or Cromwell. But that is just what you ought not to do. It would be ungrateful. It would be treasonable. It would be the end of the last experiment in popular government. It would be wrong; but I know you—your weakness and your strength; you can get a third term and a fourth and a fifth, if you try, and you will try if you don't speak out now, and by a solemn pledge, made while you are at your best, put yourself forever beyond temptation."

This was what he said; and in the hour of his triumph and gratitude, the better Roosevelt made the pledge which has now been broken.

Nobody denies the brilliance and dash and shrewdness and courage and power of Theodore Roosevelt. It is his shrewdness and his power, driven on by his insatiable ambition, that makes him to-day such a portent and menace. (Kansas City Journal.)

Great Weekly at a Low Price.
The Cincinnati Weekly Enquirer, a twelve-page paper recently transformed into the size and appearance of a daily, will be furnished in connection with the Hartford Herald at only $1.35 for the two papers. This price stands good on renewals for The Herald. The Weekly Enquirer is an ideal newspaper, containing a big variety of reading and is especially suited to the farming classes. It is Democratic and progressive. This is certainly a low price for a lot of good reading.

Getting It All.
The doctor told him he needed carbohydrates, proteins and above all, something nitrogenous. The doctor mentioned a long list of foods for him to eat. He staggered out and wobbled into a Penn-avenue restaurant.

"How about beef steak," he asked the waiter. "Is that nitrogenous?"

The waiter didn't know. "Are fried potatoes rich in carbohydrates or not?"

The waiter couldn't say. "Well, I'll fix it," declared the poor man in despair. "Bring me a large plate of hash."

Damage Suit Transferred.
Owensboro, Ky., June 8.—The big damage suit of Charles W. Stevens, who sues by his father, John W. Stevens, against the Illinois Central Railroad Company for $30,000, for personal injuries received in Louisville in February, 1910, when he attempted to grab a passing freight car and slipped on the ice, has been transferred from the Grayson Circuit Court to the United States Court here.

Arabs, who forced their way into Fez, the capital of Morocco, were repulsed by the French troops after a bloody engagement. The Arabs have declared a holy war.

DAUGHTER WINS FATHER THREE TIMES MURDERER

Prayer and Song in Cell Softened the Defiant Condemned Prisoner.

Washington, Pa., June 7.—Jan Ribarich, an Austrian, clever artist and thrice a murderer, who will be hanged here Tuesday, was converted in his cell by his daughter, whom he had vowed he would kill because she was the "cause of it all." A visit from his daughter, a prayer and the singing of "Nearer, My God, To Thee," caused a dramatic incident.

Ribarich, who had fitted his cell into a studio, for weeks past occupied his time in painting pictures and presenting them to his friends and jail officials. He always spoke jokingly of the gallows and had persuaded the Sheriff to allow him to look at the gallows from a window several hours before the execution was to take place.

Ribarich had painted the likeness of many of his friends and had drawn a sketch of himself dangling at the end of a rope with his body half concealed through the falling of the trap.

Ribarich shot and killed Michael Novak, his wife and Stephen Stanjov, whom he blamed for harboring his daughter. After his conviction the father said his only desire was to kill his daughter before he died, as she had disobeyed him.

The girl visited her father tonight, accompanied by guards. When he saw her he broke down. A Methodist minister prayed, "Nearer, My God, To Thee" was sung by visitors and jail guards, and the condemned man embraced his daughter.

Before leaving the jail the daughter, aged 18, promised her father to bring her fiancé next Sunday to the jail. It will be the first meeting between Ribarich and the young man who will take his daughter as a bride soon after the execution.

YOU TAKE WHAT YOU LIKE AND LEAVE THE BALANCE

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel, only different. When a man goes into a hotel and finds something on the table which does not suit him he does not raise his hand with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. Well, hardly. He sets that aside and wades into the dishes that suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that "does not suit them" exactly and, without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make a grandstand play and tell the editor how a paper should be run and what should be put into it, but such people are becoming fewer every year. (Grand Junction (Colo.) Herald.)

The Girl's Handicap.
In her pretty new frock, Sister Mabel felt quite proud as she sat on the front step and watched some boys playing on the sidewalk.

After a time a little boy came up to talk to her and to admire, in his rough little way, her bright, shiny shoes and pink snash.

"See my nice, square-cut waist," exclaimed the girl, "and my nice coral beads! Don't you wish you wuz a girl?"

"No, sire-ee," replied the boy; "I wouldn't want to be my girl at all, because lookie how much more neck you have to wash."

BANKING FOR FARMERS—AN IMPORTANT MATTER

Keen interest is being taken by farmers generally in the widespread efforts now being made to apply to the needs of American farmers the system of co-operative farm finance that has been so successful in Europe. The plan has aroused much interest, as outlined in this editorial page in our issue of April 13 for a farmers' commission of not less than two from each State to study this subject in Europe during July and August. In some States the farmers are taking up this matter in earnest with the Southern Commercial Congress, Washington, D. C., to whom all correspondence should be addressed. That body is acting as a central agency for perfecting the arrangements. It is doing this work at the request of the Nashville conference on co-operative farm finance held last month under the superintendency of David Lubin. At least three eastern States have practically concluded arrangements to send farmer delegates. It is hoped that every State will be represented. As one of the most clear headed and successful farmers in America writes us:

"The importance of this movement is almost inestimable, not only to farmers but to consumers and bankers. The very fact that the agricultural loans of Europe are on a par in price and volume with commercial and Government loans, demonstrates most effectively that farming is a business requiring as much if not more business ability than other occupations. I believe that when so conducted it can be made as lucrative, in proportion to the capital, labor and brains employed, as is any equally safe and conservative manufacturing business." (American Agriculturist.)

COMPANIONS BY THE WAY.

Just as an experiment, see how far you can walk in five minutes. It will convince you that a lot of your hurrying is needless.

Many of us let slip a thousand opportunities by waiting for inspiration, forgetting that idleness is not inspiring. "Inspiration comes to him who works."

Don't be afraid to give compliments. Overdelicacy in this respect is a social lack of popularity, with consequent depression and timidity. If you are in the habit of looking at your watch every few minutes, to see what speed you are making, better discard the watch. You will save ever so much strain, and actually suffer no loss of time.

It is wise for sensitive natures to expose themselves to tragical plays and harrowing novels? They pay for the experience by suffering a ghastly nervous exhaustion out of all proportion to the temporary thrill.

Are you one of the people who hop up nervously when the train is nearing the station, and stand until it stops? You think you are saving a lot of time, whereas in reality a car empties itself in three quarters of a minute.

You have heard of "the total depravity of inanimate objects." They are not depraved. We blame them for our own folly—as when we pile dishes in reckless heaps that are doomed to tip over, or pour hot sauce into cut glass, or go into a dark room without trying to remember where the furniture is.

Why are people so aware of their sensitiveness to the color of furniture and wall-paper, and so blind to the effect of the color of artificial light on the feelings? Really, a mellow light and an agreeable lampshade go far toward making the evening restful and cheerful and cozy. Crude illumination is irritating.

The quickest way to cure "blues" is to identify them. If you look back a little and discover that your woe has no reasonable cause, and that you "just feel like feeling so," you know that the condition is physical. That knowledge puts you on the road to recovery, for the physical condition begins to improve as soon as you find there is nothing worse the matter. (June Woman's Home Companion.)

Neglected wounds produce old sores and these in time develop ulcers which eat away the vitality.

Ballard's Snow Liniment

Is a Healing Remedy for All Ailments of the Flesh of Man and Beast.

The speed with which this wonderful ointment heals up a bad wound, or sore, has surprised and pleased those who were accustomed to the slower and uncertain effect of less powerful remedies. It mends the lacerated flesh so quickly that there is but little time lost from work. In relieving rheumatic pains, neuralgia, sciatica, it has done and is doing a wonderful work. Many chronic victims of these diseases have found to their great satisfaction that it cures an attack in a fraction of the time required by the ordinary treatment.

It is equally effective in the treatment of all kinds of ulcers, or of blooded sores, and it is highly recommended for two reasons: It heals sores and wounds quickly, and leaves no disfiguring scars.

This remedy is needed in every home. If its great power and efficacy was generally known, no family would be without it.

OLD CATTLE MAN SOLILOQUIZES

He rode by us this mornin', and he looked jest like a knight,
With his silver traps a-shinin' in the streaks of rosy light;
His pack horse trailed behind him, with a bed upon his back,
And he made a purty picture as he passed our homestead shack;
And we knowed that summer 'd hit us—knowed it past the slightest doubt—
'Cause the calves were beln' gathered, and the roundup call was out.

The wagon top is shinin' in some distant lonely draw;
The cook is yellin' "Grub pile!"—you 'can hear the gang harrin' as they leave the brandin' fires and gallop for the feed,
While the snow-white foam is drippin' from the mouth of every steed;
I'd like to throw in with 'em, but Father Time, it seems,
Haa put me in the discard—I can only live in dreams.

I can only dream of stretches where the cactus and the sage
Crown the "rollin' hills of glory"—nether time nor creepin' age
Can dim the youthful pictures that come up before my eyes.
When the first glad hint of June-time puts a new blue in the skies,
And a top-hat, young and knightly, passes by my cabin door
On his way to join his comrades where the roundup's on once more.

DRY GUTTERS IRRIGATED WITH BEER AND WHISKEY

Martinsburg, W. Va., June 7.—Several hundred gallons of beer and whiskey were poured into the public square here by members of the W. C. T. U. The intoxicants, confiscated by county authorities at various times, were sold at public auction by the Sheriff. The W. C. T. U. secured the lot for $240, and then dumped it into the street. As the women poured the liquor away, Constables stood guard.

Aviator and Passenger Killed.

Moumrelon, France, June 9.—Kimmerling, one of the best known aviators, and an engineer, Toumzi, who was flying with him as a passenger, were instantly killed to-day by a fall of 300 feet. Kimmerling was trying out a new monoplane. The machine was seen to oscillate violently and then it dropped straight to the earth.

Kimmerling had taken part in many important competitions, including the Paris-Rome-Turin race. In May 1911, and the European race in July of the same year, in which he finished fifth. The double fatality coming so quickly after that of yesterday when Visseur was killed, has made a depressing effect among the aviators gathered here. Kimmerling was a veteran airman of great experience, and was considered a cautious aviator. The machine was wrecked and it was impossible to ascertain the cause of the accident.

ROOSEVELT ISSUES RED HOT STATEMENT SAYING

That He Will Not Submit to the Action of the Present National Committee.

Oyster Bay, June 8.—Flatly announcing that he will not abide by the action of the Republican National Committee, Col. Theodore Roosevelt to-night issued a vitriolic statement denouncing the seating of the Taft delegates in the Ninth Alabama district, in which he said: "A nomination obtained by the votes of delegates seated in utter defiance of justice, as these two Alabama delegates stated, would be worthless to the man obtaining it, and would be indignantly repudiated by the Republican party as a whole."

Summing up Roosevelt said: "Taft leaders speak as if they were regularly Republicans. I do not concede that theft is a test of regularity."

Discussing the action of the committee he declared:

"We have sent to the penitentiary election officers for deeds morally not one whit than that which was done by the national committee who unseated two properly elected delegates in the Ninth district of Alabama and substituted for them men who have no more right to vote in the convention than repeaters in an election."

He made an appeal to the voters at large, and charged that the Taft leaders were making a deliberate attempt to destroy the Republican party.

TAFT CANNOT RECEIVE THE INCREASE PROVIDED

Frankfort, Ky., June 8.—Colony elected to office for a full term of four years, or those elected or appointed to fill vacancies, cannot receive any additional pay for the term of prisoners as is provided for in an act of the 1910 session of the Legislature. The Court of Appeals to-day so held in reversing the judgment of the Franklin Circuit Court in the case of H. M. Bosworth, Auditor, against George H. Ellison, of Whitley county. An act was passed by the Legislature two years ago increasing the keep of prisoners from fifty cents per man per day to seventy-five cents per man per day, and Ellison, who succeeded Nat H. Morgan, as jailer of Whitley county, brought action to compel Auditor Bosworth to pay the additional fee, claiming that he was not an office-holder at the time of the passage of the act. The court says that a term of office for a public official, within the meaning of the law, is the number of years for which he is elected, and should a public official elected to an office for a specified number of years vacate the office in any way, his successor, either by election or appointment, fills out the term of office for which his predecessor had been elected.

Her fortune was all based on the tips she received, though fortunate investments in real estate added her.

Cooper and Dr. G. T. Chapman. From their lodge room the parade was headed by the Rockport and Centertown bands which rendered excellent music during the exercises.

A male quartet, "The Rest of the Beautiful" was rendered in an impressive manner. The Rebecca Lodge was in the line of parade which added much to the ceremonies. Mr. Alvin Rowe, in his own fitting way, delivered the oration in the afternoon.

EIGHT PEOPLE MURDERED

—FIEND'S DESPERATE DEED

Villsava, Iowa, June 10.—The bodies of eight people, whose heads have been crushed with an ax, were found in the home of J. B. Moore, a prominent hardware merchant here, to-day. The dead include J. B. Moore, his wife and four children, and two other women.

All the persons were murdered in their beds.

The terrible mutilation of the bodies of the two unknown women prevented identification immediately.

Although there is no definite clew to the murderer, the police are searching for one person who is suspected by the authorities of having been concerned in the wholesale murder.

Revenge is believed to have been the motive of the crime. No robbery was committed, and the police think no other reason exists for the crime, unless it was committed by a madman.

Bit Horse's Tongue Off.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. William H. Smith, of Three Springs, met with a peculiar accident. The animal was in one field and another horse, the property of Mr. Smith, was in an adjoining field. The horses were biting each other, when one caught the other by his tongue and bit it so badly that Mrs. Gray & Wallace had to be summoned, and they amputated six inches of the animal's tongue. The horse is getting along nicely and will recover in the near future. —[Bowling Green Messenger.]

Mr. Chowning will erect a handsome home on the land during the summer.

A Moose Among Wenklings.

There is really only one man who would be entirely satisfactory to T. R. as temporary and permanent Chairman, and the Colonel may yet have to choose him. It is former President Roosevelt. —[Kansas City Journal.]

ROOSEVELT FRIENDS ARE PLANNING TO STORM CHICAGO

With Thousands of "Rooters" and Force Recognition of The Colonel.

Chicago, June 10.—Plans for a general uprising of the Roosevelt sympathizers throughout the country and a subsequent storming of Chicago by thousands of frenzied rooters for the purpose of exerting a "moral influence" on the National Committee were hurriedly outlined to-day by the Roosevelt chief-talons on convention row.

Telegrams were sent broadcast over the States which have declared for the Oyster Bay candidate, urging the leaders to board the next train and come to Chicago. Many of the calls for help, it was asserted, carried also the suggestion that as many men as could afford to make the trip be induced to pack their sacks and make haste for the Lake Front.

The prime movers in this sensational step were reported to anticipate the virtual overriding of Chicago and the national convention authorities by one of the largest and most unwieldy mobs that ever attempted to take possession of the city's streets. If their plans are successfully carried out, Two Thousand rough riders, clad in khaki and sombreros, are expected from the Oklahoma section alone.

It was vehemently denied this morning that the ultimate plan called for an actual physical storming of the Coliseum after the fashion of the "Commune" of the Eighteen century, and the dispersing of the Taft faction of the national convention by main strength.

One of the Roosevelt men interested in the movement said that there was no intention of staging another Napoleonic or Cromwellian show, but that they did hope to crystallize public sentiment in the vicinity of the Coliseum by the time the convention gavel fell.

The Taft generals scoffed at the proposition. They saw in it only another attempt to "intimidate and browbeat" the regularly constituted national convention authorities. "Particularly," they said, "it was a scheme to bulldoze the National Convention members, and scare them into seating Roosevelt delegates who are contesting the seats of the Taft men.
